Recruitment to certain posts under the World Health Organisation.

The World Health Organisation Regional Officer for South East Asia, Patiala House, New Delhi, has announced the need during the coming months for additions to its staff in the following types of appointments:—

- (1) Medical Officer in the Headquarters of the World Health Organisation.
- (2) Regional Adviser on Organisation of Health Services;
- (3) Country Adviser on Organisation of Health Services;
- (4) Chief Adviser of a unit or a team to be despatched to a country.

The nature of the work to be accomplished by these posts calls for a high public health qualification with adequate field experience. Doctors with post graduate public health training and with at least six years of experience in Local or National Health Services or in a combination of public health, medical care, hospital administration and any other specialised health service will be required for filling these positions. The principal duties of the officers would be to render advisory service to Governments in the field of general public health, medical care, organisation of health services etc., and to co-ordinate the diverse types of services rendered by the World Health Organization.

Applicants should have a broad vision on public health and its effect in economic development and the leadership in giving inspiration to the professional groups in public health and allied fields for progressive work. Additional specialised training or experience in tropical diseases or epidemiology will be most valuable.

Salary for these posts may range between 6,700 to 8,300 U.S. dollars per annum and the term of contract will be one or two years.

Prospective candidates are advised to send their applications through the Government which will be duly forwarded to the Ministry of Health, Government of India, for necessary action.

LIVE STOCK CENSUS—1951.

The Eleventh Quinquennial Census of Live Stock (Agricultural Census) will take place in the month of May 1951 in the State, and 31st of May has been fixed as the final date. Action has been taken already to complete the preliminaries such as division of the area into suitable blocks and appointment of Enumerators and Supervisors. The Census will be conducted both in Urban and in Rural Areas.

Our State is primarily an agricultural country. Cattle wealth is an essential condition for ensuring agricultural prosperity and improvement in agricultural production.

No large schemes or plans for the improvement of Live Stock on scientific lines can be undertaken, in the absence of reliable statistics relating to Live Stock. It is, therefore, of the first degree of importance that statistics should be collected in as accurate and correct a manner as possible. The public are requested to co-operate with the Enumerators and give them correct information when they come to them for collection of information relating to Live Stock in connection with the ensuing Live Stock Census, 1951.
